New products, clear structure, simple handling

New "NORRES Cable Protection Systems" catalogue

The latest version of the "NORRES Cable Protection Systems" catalogue, spanning a host of product innovations, is now available. This 142-page catalogue contains all essential information about cable protection conduits and conduit systems for a wide range of applications. It also describes numerous new products in the following categories: plastic conduits, metal conduits, NORTIGHT® conduits – robust metal conduits featuring a seal and a thick coating, NORDUC® tubes – corrugated plastic tubes with compatible connectors, hollow braidings, plastic spiral bands and insulating tubes. The spectrum is rounded off with a special chapter on accessories.

Simple handling – quick-find layout!

The new catalogue has a clear and simple structure, in which each conduits chapter is followed by a corresponding chapter with compatible connectors.

The individual product pages provide detailed information about applications, temperature ranges, properties, materials, options and accessories. They each include technical drawings and tables of dimensions and ordering data as well as a product photo. The catalogue additionally offers a wealth of basic technical information about conduits, raw materials, processing, applications, sizing, assembly, etc.

All these features turn your new catalogue into an extremely handy guide. It is more than just a convenient solution finder for experts in the field: users from other industries or newcomers are equally appreciative of its easy handling and intuitive product search functionality.
